

Company Overview

FracSpace Private Limited is a pioneering company in the real estate industry, redefining property ownership through fractional ownership. Our platform enables individuals to own a part of a property, facilitating investment and collaboration opportunities. Based in Hyderabad, FracSpace is small to medium-sized with an employee count of 11-50.

Job Overview

The Pre Sales Executive position at FracSpace Private Limited is an excellent opportunity for a fresher to join our team in Hyderabad. As a full-time role, the candidate will engage with our cutting-edge fractional ownership platform, assisting in driving business in both new and existing markets. The position invites those passionate about real estate and client interactions.

Qualifications and Skills

Must possess excellent client communication skills (Mandatory skill) to effectively engage and interact with potential clients.

Previous experience in cold calling is required to reach out to prospects and generate potential leads for the business.

Proficiency in conducting market research is needed to identify potential growth areas and understand market trends.

Strong interpersonal skills are necessary to build and maintain relationships with Clients.

Roles and Responsibilities

Participate actively in sales meetings and presentations to gain firsthand experience and provide necessary support.

Assist in preparing and delivering detailed product demonstrations and presentations to potential clients.

Call and maintain relationships with customers to enhance client satisfaction and foster long-term collaboration.